NOTE

Under Internal Revenue Regulations, tax-exempt charitable organizations generally must provide requesters with COPIES of:

- Its approved exemption applications, all required attachments and any related correspondence with the IRS, and
- Its three most recent annual information returns (Form 990), including all schedules and attachments (but not the names and addresses of contributors).

In-person requests: A member of the public may request to inspect the documents at any principal office of the organization. The entity must provide the information requested that same day. However, if the request places an “unreasonable burden” on the organization, the staff must provide copies of the requested information no later than the next business day after the unusual circumstances cease to exist (limited to a maximum of five business days after the request).

Written requests: Written requests made by fax, mail, email, or overnight service, which include the requester’s address, must be honored within 30 days of receipt.

Website alternative: Instead of providing copies, an organization may make the documents available on either its own or another organization's website. If it uses this option, it has to: (1) provide an exact replica of the document as was filed with the IRS; (2) advise requesters how to access the forms on the web; (3) the site should charge no access fee and require no special software or hardware to download. Organizations that post this information on the Internet still must honor in-person requests to view the applicable documents.

Permissible charges: Tax-exempt organizations may charge a reasonable copying fee, up to $1 for the first page and 15 cents for each additional page, plus actual postage costs.

Penalties: An organization that fails to comply with the new disclosure requirements may be subject to the following penalties:

- Annual Information Return – Form 990 - $20 per day for as long as the failure continues, up to a maximum of $10,000 for each failure to provide an annual return.
- Exemption Application - $20 per day with no maximum.
- An organization that willfully fails to comply with these public inspection rules can be subject to an additional $5,000 penalty.

Private foundation exempt: The new disclosure rules don't yet apply to private foundations. They must still make a copy of their annual return available for public inspection at their principal office for a period of 180 days after publishing a notice of availability.

Donor Information: Please note that donor information is not open to public inspection and has been excluded from this copy.

Part II-B, Line 1, Lobbying Activities:

While Open Doors is active on Capitol Hill, our direct lobbying activities in regard to legislation are very minimal. In 2017, Open Doors USA Advocacy staff met with officials at the US State Department, with the Administration, and with Congressional offices, and shared about the persecution faced by believers in countries around the world.

Throughout the year, public online advocacy campaigns launched by Open Doors USA raised crucial awareness of this issue. We also produced email newsletters, reaching out to Congressional offices on the situation facing persecuted Christians around the globe.

Part I, Line 2:

All of Open Doors USA's (ODUSA) grants are to Open Doors International (ODI). Therefore the applicable information is in ODI's records.

However, ODUSA does use ODI's Project Planning & Reporting System (PPRS) that shows how the funds were designated and how much was sent to ODI for various field projects.

ODI prepares a worldwide PPRS report each month, which shows that the funds were spent according to their designation. They maintain receipts and invoices as well. ODI holds the Temporary Restriction on their books and reports are available for review by ODUSA at any time. ODI follows a very careful/intentional process. Each year the field directors are asked to submit their requests to ODI. ODI leadership reviews and approves them based on what is available from the development base grant budgets and prioritizes the requests in regard to the greatest needs.

The grantee's eligibility is determined by the main program areas of

Bible & Literature distribution, Training, Advocacy, and Socio-Economic Development. These areas are at the core of our ministry.

Advocacy (2017)

As a presence ministry, Open Doors has the privilege of advocating for persecuted Christians and showing that they are not forgotten or alone.

While Open Doors USA is active on Capitol Hill, our direct lobbying activities in regard to legislation are very minimal. In 2017 ODUSA Advocacy staff met with the State Department's Office for International Religious Freedom, as well as Congressional offices, and shared about the persecution faced by believers in other countries. Throughout the year, public online advocacy campaigns launched by Open Doors USA drew attention to specific cases. Throughout the year Open Doors advocacy staff collaborated regularly with other organizations and met with Congressional offices, updating them on issues of religious freedom. We also produced email newsletters, reaching out to a broad audience on the situation facing persecuted Christians around the globe.

Expenses $ 724,106. including grants of $ 342,544. Revenue $ 0.

Annually staff, board members, and officers are presented with the conflict of interest policy and must disclose any interests or relations that could conflict with the interests of the organization via a signed disclosure.

The Board Chair and CEO is notified if an officer, director or key employee discloses a conflict of interest. The full board reviews and approves all conflicts of interest and related party transactions. The person in a position to affect a decision in which he/she may have a conflict of interest must abstain from discussion and voting on the decision by absenting themselves from the room during such discussion and vote. The specifics of the related party transaction and votes are then reflected in the minutes of board meetings. Any material related party transactions are disclosed in the footnotes of the audited financial statements of Open Doors. Comparison bids are obtained for these transactions and the board reviews the comparisons and makes a determination based on the benefit versus risk to the ministry. In addition, the board approves the amount of the transaction and this is documented in the minutes.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 15:

The board will conduct a periodic review of the Compensation Policy and Procedure. Records supporting compensation decisions for officers are maintained by the organization's Human Resources department.
